

London Gallery Quire 31

The Lord looked down from heaven's high tower Psalm 53 verses 2-6

New Version of Tate and Brady (1696)

Devizes, by Isaac Tucker (1761-1825)
Edited by Francis Roads; symphony by Mike Bailey

[Air] $\text{♩} = 60$

1. The Lord looked down from heav'n's high tower, The
 2. But all, he saw, were back - wards gone, De -
 3. But are those wor - kers of de - ceit So
 4. Their cause - less fears shall strange - ly grow, And
 5. Would he his sa - ving pow'r em - ploy To 5

S
 sons of men to view; To see if a - ny
gen' - rate grown, and base; None for re - li - gion dull and sense - less grown, That they, like bread, my they, des - pised of God, Shall soon be foiled; his break our ser - vile band, Loud shouts of u - ni -

A T
 B

The Lord looked down from heaven's high tower 31

10

S
owned his pow'r, [p] Or truth or jus - tice knew, cared, not one, Of all the sin - ful race,
 peo - ple eat, And God's just pow'r dis - own,
hand shall throw Their shat - tered bones a - broad,
 ver - sal joy Should e - cho through the land,

A
[p]

T
owned his pow'r,
cared, not one,
 peo - ple eat,
hand shall throw
 ver - sal joy

B

16

S [f] Or truth or jus - tice knew.
Of all the sin - ful race.
 And God's just pow'r dis - own?
Their shat - tered bones a - broad.
 Should e - cho through the land.

A
[f]

T
Or truth or jus - tice knew.
Of all the sin - ful race.
 And God's just pow'r dis - own?
Their shat - tered bones a - broad.
 Should e - cho through the land.

B

20 Symphony

S

A

T

B